

TIMES WILL CHANGE . . . Here's the way they start to school, playing with blocks, trucks, airplanes, and such items. In a few years, however, it will be fractions, spelling, and a little more serious work. Getting in their first day at the El Nido School are Jerry Rosenberg, Connie Parsons, Gary Bilotti, Lawrence Foulst, Rodney Mahan, and Needs Moody. (Herald photo).

TIME OUT . . . Is called by Sister M. Generosa of the Sisters of St. Joseph, of Orange, a teacher at the Catholic Nativity School, to examine the "strawberry" on the elbow of Quarterback Roland Gagnon who was wounded in a playground football battle during noon hour on the first day of school on Monday. His team went on to win by 118 to 13. (Herald photo).

OPENING DAY ACTIVITIES . . . At Greenwood Elementary School, as in the other twelve schools of the Torrance Unified School District on Monday, the many first-day chores included passing out new books. In the seventh grade at Greenwood Bill Cooper hands out new books to Judy Lackey (left) and Betty Jack. (Herald Photo)

NEXT YEAR . . . Through the wire fence at Walteria Elementary School three prospective school pupils watch with interest the goings-on as a group of Kindergarten pupils get acquainted with their new teacher. The new students were separated into three groups with each group attending first day classes for one hour with Mommie in attendance to lend moral support. Having Mommie along helps quell the terrors of the first day at school. (Herald Photo)

ONE TOO MANY . . . Elmitt Eastoot, a Perry School eighth grader, found he wasn't alone when he got to school Monday morning. On the suggestion of Principal Lester Foster, he sent his little friend home. (Herald photo).

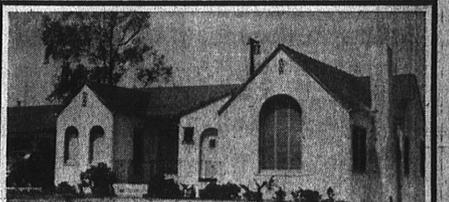

THERE ARE SO MANY THINGS TO SEE . . . It's only a trash can to you and me but to Johnny Figueredo and David Bowdoin, both imaginative six-year-olds, this is the nose turret of a space ship that just landed from Mars on the school playground at Fern Elementary School. "Smokin' rockets—ain't that sumpin'?" "Yeah!" (Herald photo).

Crash Victim Improving After Two Car Collision

Reported in "improving" condition yesterday at Tri-City Emergency Hospital was Joseph Simons, 42, of 16718 Patronella Ave., who received serious head injuries Saturday when his car collided with one driven by Wanda Boston, 20, of Redondo Beach, on Aviation Blvd. near 120th St., in Inglewood. The driver of the other car was not hurt. Simons was cited by police for an alleged right of way violation.

'WE'RE UP FIRST' . . . To this group of future Babe Ruths the first day of school was just a good excuse to start a ball game. Lynn Nielsen, (left) and Bruce Halapin, both students at Seaside Elementary School determine who will bat first by the time honored method of flipping the bat. (Herald Photo)

California Extension Offers Writing Course

University of California Extension offers Long Beach area residents an opportunity to enroll in a course in creative writing, which opens Oct. 2 at 7 p.m. at the Public Library Children's Room, Ocean Blvd. Eight consecutive Friday evening classes will study techniques of the short story, novel, play, photo and radio play, according to Mrs. Dorcas Davis de Jong, who will conduct the course.

DEER SEASON OPEN

Deer season opened yesterday in northern California, the inland and Sierra areas and San Diego County, the Outing Bureau of the Automobile Club of Southern California reminded hunters this week.

Soldier Receives Combat Infantryman's Badge

Recently promoted to private first class while serving with the 2d Infantry Division in Korea, was Waymon A. Grigsby, the son of Mr. and Mrs. William H. Grigsby, 18528 Regina Ave. A squad leader with Company H of the 23d Regiment, Grigsby received the Combat Infantryman's badge for active participation in ground action before the cease-fire. Symbol of the front-line soldier, the badge is a miniature silver rifle mounted on a blue background and superimposed on a silver wreath.
